MARSHALL COLLEGE

VOL. XVII.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., FRIDAY, MAY 14, 1920.

No. 27

Baseball Results

Marshall 14; Heidelberg U. 9.

In a very loosely played game Marshall defeated Heidelberg last Thursday, winning 14-9. Five Marshall scores were made in the first inning, and three men were walked, giving a sample of what happened throughout the game. Guinlan pitched this game for Marshall, and worked excellently. By winning this game, Marshall took the series, having won the first game 4-3.

Marshall 3; Bethany College 5.

Last Friday Marshall suffered defeat at the hands of the fast Bethany College line, who are after the State Championship this year. "Davy" pitched a great game for Marshall, and would have won but for errors made by his teammates. The score was 3-0 in our favor until the seventh inning, when loose playing on our part enabled Bethany to tie the score. Then in the tenth Bethany made two more, while Marshall could not put across a single tally.

Marshall 2; Cincinnati U. 7.

The Big Green again went down in defeat Saturday before the hard slugger of Cincinnati University team. Evans pitched a good game and deserved a far better fate. Again fatal errors at critical time proved most costly to Marshall. Cincinnati made three runs in the fourth inning, two in the fifth, and two in the seventh, making a total of seven of which only two were really earned. Marshall made two in the ninth by clean hits, Holly and Winters scoring on Morris' single.

The breaks of the game were against us, it seemed and two terrific drives were foul by a few feet. Nevertheless, it was a pretty good game, and could easily have come out much worse for Marshall.

Prominent Alumna Weds

Urzula Coffman, '18, Marries John H. Bowling.

Alumni will be interested in the news of the marriage of the member of the class of '18 mentioned above. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, near Fort Spring, Greenbrier County, on the afternoon of Saturday, May 8, at four o'clock. Only immediate friends of the family were present. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Mabel Coffman, M. C. '12, who is well known to many of the alumni of our school.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for their future home in the beautiful little city of White Sulphur Springs, the resort made famous by the visits of President Wilson and the Prince of Wales.

All join in wishing to the pair the very best of fortune and happiness. May joy and sunshine always brighten their lives, and only enough rain and darkness come to make the bliss more welcome.

Will Present Three One-Act Plays May 21.

The Marshall College Dramatic Club will present three one-act plays May 21. All three will be foreign plays; two, "Rosalie" and "Indian Summer," are the products of two French playwrights, Meilhac and Halevy. "The Marriage Proposal," by Anthon Tchekhov, one of the greatest Russian writers, is a satire of Russian peasant life, and for many years has been a favorite farce in Russia.

Morris Harvey Wins by One-half Point

Judges Give Barboursvillians Benefit of Doubt; Result: Marshall 96 1-6, Morris Harvey 96 2-3.

The crisis is over, the deed is done. Morris Harvey came, she heard, she replied, she conquered. That's the story in a nut shell. There was more pep and school spirit loose in the Auditorium last Friday evening than the editor ever saw there in his long career at Marshall. The preliminary contest to decide which side would hang their pennant the highest was decided in our favor when Messrs. McCullough, Bonar, and Eckard succeeded in having green and white pennants fastened to the balcony supports at the very ceiling of the Auditorium, no higher place being available in the room. Then the vocal efforts of the rival clans made the welkin ring with sound until the contest took place. Songs, yells, and even a Morris Harvey solo beguiled the minutes of waiting.

The debate came first. Russel Morris, Alonzo Huffman and Carl Hereford made powerful arguments for the adoption of compulsory military training, and their talks were well and effectively

NOTICE!!

Will the person or persons who purchased, swiped, took, or inveigled the baseball copy from the Parthenon office, including the line-up of the Cincinnati game, please refrain from repeating the offense, as it is extremely inconvenient, to say the least, to find such important copy missing when it comes time to make up form. The editor was forced to spend nearly an hour of valuable time replacing this, and lack of time to regain the information made it impossible to get the line-up for this week. We know the Parthenon office resembles chaos in a very high degree, but just because something seems out of place is no reason for annexing it.

scene of action in Japan. Although the girls had had but very little time to acquaint themselves with the play, yet they acquitted themselves very well indeed, and the evening was very interesting and enjoyable.

The characters in the play were as follows: Hoshi, a Japanese villager, Florence Starkey; Mura, his wife, Pauline Milam; Mito San, a student from America, Grace Bonar; Mrs. Groton, wife of an American consul, Ada Shepard; Evelyn Tower, an American Heiress, Lelia Depue.

Le Cercle Francais

Elects Officers for Next Year.

At the last regular meeting of the year held in Mlle Stevenson's Salle de classe Monday, Le Cercle Francais elected the corps of officers pour l'anne prochaine. Monsieur Garry Eckard etait élu presidente, Mlle. Virginia Hoff Vice-presidente, Mlle. Houchens secretaire, et M. Wilson journaliste.

French songs were sung, and a short talk on Deschanel, the new French president, was made in French by Mary Hammond. Erville Sowards then told briefly of Jeanne d'Arc, and Mrs. Campbell told of her intended visit to France the coming summer.

A scene from "Le Voyage de Monsieur Perrichon" was then acted by Mlles. Wiles and Holswade, and Messrs. Walker, Brinker, Fleming, and Wilson. Then Mlle Stevenson showed pictures of the destruction of the best known French cathedrals by the Germans during the war.

Marshall 5; Greenbrier P. M. S. 4.

The Marshall team made a flying trip to Lewisburg and played the Greenbrier Presbyterian Military School there Wednesday, with the result shown above. The game was hotly contested, and for a while looked doubtful. Evans pitched a good game, all the Greenbrier runs being unearned. The feature of the contest was the hitting of Tallman and the fielding of Echols. As usual, Holly caught a good game. Wagoner pitched a good game for G. P. M. S., but was very wild.

Tomorrow we play the Huntington Boosters at League Park. Marshall is determined to win this contest in order to cinch the championship of the city. The Boosters are equally determined to make Marshall trail her banners in the dust, as it will be remembered that we defeated them 4-3 the first game, and they are out for revenge.

The small son of an electrical engineer is more familiar with the appliances of modern civilization than with the small things of nature. On his first visit to the country he unhesitatingly picked up a hornet to inspect its mechanism. Result—tears. When asked what was the matter he answered: "It was that bug. I think his wirin' is defective. I touched him an' he wasn't insulated at all."

Boxing Bout Last Week Very Lively; League of Nations to be Debated Tonight.

The bout for the lightweight championship last week between "Har Boiled" Hagee and "Battling" Sowards proved very lively and interesting. On a short program was rendered on account of the Morris Harvey contest, but a regular program will be given this week. The chief attraction is a debate on the question "Resolved, That the plan for a League of Nations, as set forth in the Treaty of Versailles, should be adopted by the United States." Erville Sowards and Clyde Billups are on the affirmative, while M. P. Loy and A. Dearman are on the negative. Since this is a question that is of national interest today, it will be well worth while to hear what is to be said on the subject.

Beulah and Leolia Blessing spent Sunday at Point Pleasant.

Marie Lloyd has returned to school after a week's visit home.

Nora Faulkner was the guest of Lelah Keith Tuesday.

Edithe Phipps was called home on account of the illness of her mother.

Vada Lowe, Mabel Ryan, and Glenna Holyman spent the week end in Charleston.

Carrie Coffman is spending a few days at her home near Fort Spring.

Mary Katherine Daniels, and Rosalind and Virginia Hoff spent Friday night at the Dorm.

Among the girls who spent the week end at home last week were Pauline Milam, Clara Crum, Esther Preston and Nannie Eleen Fry.

Madge Priddy spent the week end with Selvia Lee Ball.

Virginia Crum visited her sister, Florence, Friday and Saturday.

It is becoming extremely difficult to hear the campus bell these five evenings, especially when there is an interesting game of tennis being played on the courts.

Several of the Dorm girls hear the call of the court and racquet so strongly that they even rise before the breakfast bell and play a few games. Wonder what makes it so interesting; is it the partner?

The "substitute" waiters are proving very popular.

Only a few more weeks and then—HOME! But just think of the tests before that dream can be realized. And the weather is getting too hot to study too.

delivered. Messrs. Kelly, Hawes, and Rhodes, the Morris Harvey contestants, made a noble effort, but in the eyes of the Marshall adherents did not break down the evidence of our speakers. Taken as a whole, the debate was well worth while, and everyone was well pleased with it.

Mae Yoho delivered a powerful oration "Columbia's Jewel Box," in a most convincing way, while Mr. Riggelman, her opponent, spoke on "America."

According to the system adopted beforehand, the winner of the debate was to receive 65 points, and the loser as many as the judges thought merited. The oration counted 35 for the winner, with as many were given to the loser as the judges thought it deserved. While the decision was being decided upon, more songs and yells were indulged in by the enthusiastic audience.

The judges decided that Morris Harvey deserved 96 2-3 points, and Marshall 96 1-6. Let us hope for victory next time. It is reported that the Morris Harveyites celebrated wildly when they arrived safely back in Barboursville. Well might they thus indulge, for victory may be with us in the future.

Prepare for College Day

Today is Time for Future Plans to be Made.

The social and economic importance of boys and girls getting a college education is commanding increased effort by many agencies to enable these students in our schools thus folly to equip themselves for life. The very existence of colleges and universities means that money has been made, stored up and invested in these institutions. Nor is it possible for a college education to be secured without this same storing up of money until it is needed.

These two ideas—the importance of a college education and the necessity for saving money in order to get it—are being impressed on a special way just now throughout the Fifth Federal Reserve District by concerted effort on the part of state and denominational colleges and universities, the secular and religious press, men's clubs and women's clubs, school superintendents and teachers, in observing Friday, May 14th as "Prepare for College Day."

Calvin Reynolds, College Agent

The following thoughts are worthy of your careful consideration:

First, that every boy and girl should secure a college education (if practicable) because of what it means in the development of his own life as an individual and as a citizen, socially, economically, and otherwise. To this end, the War Loan Organization of the Fifth Federal Reserve District will issue a leaflet giving some suggestive information.

The second idea is the necessity for making and saving money and investing it wisely until needed, if a college education is to be secured. Such saving and investment involves both the boys and girls and their parents. Various methods of saving will suggest themselves. Savings banks have been established in some schools but more children are being encouraged to save their money through regular purchase of Thrift and War Savings Stamps than in any other way. Because of their small denominations and convenient form, these securities are particularly useful investments for the savings of the average boy or girl. But to parents, Treasury Savings Certificates in denominations of $100 and $1000 afforded very attractive media for regular saving and investment. These securities (like War Savings Stamps) bear interest at 4 per cent compounded quarterly (yielding more than 4 1/4 per cent simple interest if held to maturity, that is, January 1, 1925, do not fluctuate in value, are readily redeemable at any time prior to maturity at original cost plus the interest that has accumulated meanwhile, and are exempt both as to principal and interest from all local and state taxation. A leaflet has been prepared describing these various securities.
